Eight target rifle shooters from Norfolk are looking forward to spending 3½ weeks of March as members of Great Britain fullbore (7.62mm calibre) teams competing in the World Long Range Championships to be held at Bloemfontein, South Africa.

Three have been selected to shoot in the 20-strong Great Britain team in the Palma Match for the World Long Range Team Championship. With a course of fire unchanged from the match's origins nearly 150 years ago, each will fire 15 shots at 800, 900 and 1,000 yard distances without the aid of telescopic sights but assisted by a dedicated wind coach. Nigel Ball is a full-time shooting coach with a 30-year career behind him which started in the Royal Navy, where he won the Queen's Medal for service rifle before branching out into target rifle. A stalwart of the successful Norfolk county fullbore team, he has shot for a variety of England and GB teams all over the world. Hailing initially from Sheringham, Glyn Barnett is an Emergency Medicine Consultant currently working in Abu Dhabi and one of the greatest shooters of his generation. One of only five marksmen to win the Sovereign's Prize three times, he was the first to win it in two successive years and also has three Bisley Grand Aggregates and a Commonwealth Gold Medal to his credit. He, too, has vast experience shooting for Norfolk, England and Great Britain with this being his fifth Palma Match. Joining these two is Chloë Evans, a Data Manager from Thornage. Like Barnett, she began her shooting career at Gresham's School in Holt. At the age of thirty, she has already toured with various teams to the Channel Islands, Canada, the West Indies, the USA and South Africa in shooting and coach capacities. The current captain of Norfolk's fullbore rifle team, she represents Wales, and was a member of the Welsh teams that won the National Match in 2016 and 2021.

Two other Gresham's Rifle Club alumni are members of the 8-strong Great Britain Under 25 team. Lower Bodham's Toby Cubitt is currently studying Engineering at the UEA with a view to a career in motorsport. While his international career to date has been hampered by COVID, he has still been able to shoot for the GB Under 19 team, and last year received his first England cap shooting in their victorious team in the National. Toby Little, a police officer from Saxlingham Nethergate, won the National with Wales in 2021. He has shot in Canada and South Africa as a GB Under 19, and in the World Championships in New Zealand as a GB Under 21. This will be his third South African tour having shot there last year with the GB Under 25s.

Lastly, three Norfolk shots will be competing as members of the Great Britain Armed Forces team. Harriet Bennett from Field Dalling is a Captain in the Adjutant-General's Corps, while Holt's Clare Mawson is a Royal Navy Lieutenant and Great Ryburgh's Matthew Purdy a Captain in the Royal Artillery.

On arrival at Bloemfontein, they will first compete in the Free State Championships and the Republic of South Africa International Teams Matches. This is followed by the six days of the South Africa Bisley Union Championships, which incorporate the World Under 25 Individual World Championships and the Protea Teams Match. There is then the Under 25 World Team Championship before the climax of the tour: the World Long Range Individual Championship and the Palma Match for the World Long Range Team Championship.
